are Mrs. Earl Phelps, Mrs. Michael Erickson, Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, new president, and Mrs. LaVerne Milan. Mrs. Gene Rothenberger, presided at installation.

New Officers 'Light Up' the Picture

As each new officer of the Woman's Club of Arcadia was installed, she turned on one of the bulbs which lined a big picture frame on the stage. And at the end of the ceremony the lighted frame disclosed a picture of their 1972-73 president, Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler.

Mrs. Gene Rothenberger, who is a past president, presided as installing officer and planned the clever "picture frame" theme.

Gray skies and threat of rain did little to dampen the party-like atmosphere which prevailed for the installation tea, and the clubhouse literally hummed with activity as members gathered for what proved to be a most enjoyable afternoon.

The only cloud which hovered inside was the absence of the out-going president, Mrs. Bruce McAbery. Mrs. McAbery suffered an injury in an automobile accident while visiting recently in Iowa.

Mrs. Harold Shepherd, first vice-president, presided at the short meeting which ended Mrs. McAbery's presidential year.

Mrs. Richard Nestler was stand-in for Mrs. George Blanchard, the new first vice-president, who was unable to be there.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Michael Erickson, third vice-president, in charge of programs; Mrs. William Quan, fourth vice-president, and ways and means chairman; Mmes. Earl Phelps, recording secretary, Victor Eichberg, corresponding secretary; Charles Ganther, federation chairman; John Milan, treasurer, Carlton Eckermann, senior trustee; Cecil Thomson, junior trustee; and Gilbert Starkenberg, parliamentarian, all of whom looked charming in their colorful floor length gowns, wearing cymbidium orchid corsages made by one of the members, Mrs. John Doyle.

After receiving the gavel, Mrs. Loeffler thanked those who had put so much effort into making this an outstanding afternoon. She announced her theme to be "Let us be kind," and read a poem telling the benefits to be derived from following this theme. Some necessary business was taken up, after which members and guests were invited to tea.

Mrs. Ernest Fuerst assisted by Mrs. Joseph Parnham, was in charge of this social hour. Using the club colors of pink and green, the tea table was resplendent with a lace-trimmed green cloth, a centerpiece by Hortense of Arcadia of pink carnations in a silver bowl flanked by pink candles in silver candelabra. Dainty sandwiches, colorful pastries, nuts and mints were arranged on silver dishes and trays. Mrs. Harry Russell and Mrs. William Greenway, both past presidents, poured.

International Luncheon Set

Foods from around the world will be the attraction when members of the International Affairs Department of Arcadia Woman's Club host their "International Luncheon" Wednesday, June 28.

The affair will take place at the home of Mrs. William Parnham, 615 W. Longden Ave., Arcadia, and proceeds from the $2.50 luncheon donations will go toward a new project which the department is espousing.

Arrangements have been started for the group to "adopt" a handicapped child in Europe through sponsorship of World Vision. The name, history and picture of the child, as well as his or her needs will soon be forthcoming, said Mrs. Parnham, department chairman.

Mrs. Lois Merton is program and publicity chairman for the group and its projects.

An afternoon of bridge will follow the luncheon and meeting.

Garden Party Benefits Little Korean Girl

ARCADIA — "What is so rare as a day in June" if they are like the one which dawned for the Garden Party sponsored by the International Department of the Women's Club of Arcadia.

The beautiful garden of the Joseph Parnhams' was the setting for gaily bedecked tables and the many guests' colorful frocks.

The party was given to raise funds for a seven year old Korean girl which the department has adopted through the World Vision International. Mrs. Dell Russe, a representative of this organization, was a guest, and gave a most interesting and informative talk on the fine work they are doing.

Guests gathered in the outdoor patio for a happy hour, after which they were served a perfect summertime luncheon at tables scattered under the big trees, and around the pool. The rest of the afternoon was spent playing bridge, but interspersed with much chatting.

The hostess and Department Chairman was Mrs. Mildred Parnham, and hostess of the Happy Hour was Mrs. Lois Merton. Assisting were Mrs. Marie Eckerman, tickets, Kathryn Short, in charge of seating guests, and Henrietta Loeffler, prizes and table setting.

It was a party for Yung Ok Kim when members of the International Affairs Section of the Arcadia Woman's Club gathered for luncheon in the garden and pool area of the Joseph Parnham home.

Yung Ok Kim is the Korean orphan adopted by the group through World Vision International.

The young lady who celebrated her seventh birthday June 10 is said to be a most cheerful child and of average health by the staff of the Dong Sung Yung A Won Orphanage where she lives.

Mrs. Parnham, hostess if chairman of the International Affairs Section of the club and assisting her with plans for the elegant buffet luncheon, followed by cards, were Mmes. Kay Short, chairman for the day; Lois Merton, serving of punch; Henrietta Loeffler, decorations and Mrs. Carlton Eckermann, tickets and reservations.

Special guest introduced was Mrs. Del Risse, daughter of clubmember Mrs. Harry Russell, who works for World Vision. She told of her work with the International organization which includes coordination of sponsorship of orphans with individuals or organizations.

Sponsorship is on a yearly basis. For $12 per month one can know that a little life across the sea knows that someone cares.

Arboretum is 'fantasy' site

"Moonlight Fantasy" to be staged tomorrow night in the natural setting of the Arboretum is the combined effort of the Arcadia Woman's Club and the California Arboretum Foundation.

Mrs. William Quon, ways and means chairman of the Arcadia Woman's Club, is chairman of the event which includes a 6 p.m. social hour, a gourmet dinner at 7 and a galaxy combination of performing artists.

Proceeds from the first-time event will benefit the Arboretum and the Woman's Club main philanthropy which this past year has been the Foundation for the Junior Blind.

The star-studded program featuring talents of San Gabriel Valley artists includes the Boys Club Band of Pasadena, a magic show by Patty and Paul Fidler, selections by Mary Lou Privett's Arcadia Studio of the Dance, piano solos by Allan Cruse and Elena Webb and a solo from "Madame Butterfly" by Mrs. Quon.

Adele and William Pirigyi and the chorus of the Golden West Light Opera Company, directed by the Pirigyi's will be featured with the Ballet Continental concluding the program.

Members of the Ballet Continental, performing Saturday night, have just returned from an engagement as guest artists with the Las Vegas Ballet Co. at the Stardust Hotel.

Jay DuGae is the company's director. He has guested with such renowned ballet companies as the Royal Ballet of London and the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. In addition to his

The show went on.. despite the weather

There is a saying in the theatre "the show must go on" and it probably was this adage that inspired members of the Women's Club of Arcadia and the Arboretum Foundation to go on, in spite of the rain, with the staging of Saturday's "Moonlight Fantasy." The production went on without moon and not in its original locale, the green belt in front of the fountain at the Arboretum.

The event was set at 6 p.m. and it was around 2 p.m. when an area in the Pasadena Hilton was confirmed for use. Calling committees got busy and in short order the switch had been made.

It was a tremendous undertaking in the first place and the committee certainly endeavored to proceed, undaunted, by the weather.

Guests arrived in droves and were seated at round attractively tables which had been placed "sardine style" in the L shaped room at the north west corner of the Hilton.

Liquid refreshments were served from an improvised bar and the lavish buffet table literally groaned with food.

Diane Quon, chairman of the event, had enlisted the aid of various members for serving and her husband Bill removed his dinner jacket, rolled up his sleeves and carved and served the entire time it took to feed the guests of which there were nigh on to 400.

At the Arboretum they had planned to have four serving lines and with only room for one at the Hilton the allotted serving time was quadrupled, hence the program was very late in starting.

The crowd was wonderful and certainly joined in with the spirit of the event. Everyone kept smiling and the performers, of which there were many, maintained their "cool."

Operating under such handicaps as doing a dance number practically in the lap of the audience, a ballet presentation on a rug and a magician with an audience front, back and both sides, the performers are to be commended.

Hearty rounds of applause greeted Mary Lou Privett and her dancers, Paul Fidler and Patty, magicians; Allan Cruse, pianist; Mrs. Zuon, The Brown Sisters and accompanist Elena Webb, Susanne De Truan's Ballet Continental and the Pasadena Boy's Club Band.

And a special word should be said for Adele and William Pirigyi and members of their Golden West Opera Chorus who because of the approach of the midnight hour, relinquished their part in the show.

Incidentally their presentation may be viewed Aug. 26 at the Sierra Madre Recreation Center.

The show did go on and thanks to the good humor and understanding of some wonderful Arcadians it played to a full house . . . very full.

Busy selling tickets to Mrs. Ray Petterson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Penny and Ray Petterson, from left, was Mrs. Jack Mallon of the Arcadia Woman's Club.

Their vocal material has been arranged especially for them by their teacher, Elena Webb, who will accompany them at the piano, and who will play Bach's Prelude. Miss Webb is a graduate in piano and voice from the Royal Conservatory of Music, the University of Toronto, and she has been a featured vocalist and pianist with top Canadian television and radio shows. She is a resident of Monrovia.

Diane Quon, a music major from the University of Southern California, will sing "One Fine Day" from Madame Butterfly; "Edelweiss" from Sound of Music, and "Moon River" from Breakfast at Tiffany's.

Paul Fiddler and Patty, who have been named the best magicians on the Pacific Coast for the past five years, are well known to members of the Arcadia Woman's Club. They will present their "Magic Direct from Hawaii." Paul is an accomplished actor and Patty was Miss California of 1970. They have made many appearances throughout the United States and South America.

Their program will include: Fascination from Birdland, the world's only exotic bird magic act; The Enchanted Egg, as performed by Fiddler on national television; The Human Parrot, Fiddler's original magic wonder; The Greatest Miracle on Earth, this one fooled President Nixon; and The Flight of the queen, Miss California, who will float seven feet in the air.

William Pirigyi, tenor, and Adele Pirigyi, soprano, of the Golden West Opera Co., will be soloists. The chorus will sing "Oklahoma," medley from "South Pacific," and "Impossible Dream" from the Man of La Mancha.

Mr. Pirigyi made his debut at the age of 23 and made concert appearances at Town Hall, Carnegie Hall, Hunter College, and toured the country under the Columbia Artists Community Series. Five years ago he became a Southern Californian and organized the Golden West Opera Co. The company has given many productions and at present is in rehearsal for "La Traviata" to be given in the fall. He also teaches voice in Sierra Madre and Adele Pirigyi teaches voice. She has performed extensively in opera and the concert stage on the east coast and is music director of the Golden West Opera Co.

Also appearing in the concert will be the Ballet Continental under the direction of Suzanne de Truan and Jay

90 YEARS OLD

Garden Like Being in Japan, But It's Only Sierra Madre

BY MAVERENE BARKER
Times Staff Writer

It's been said that a tour of Mrs. Edwin Rose's garden is the next best thing to a visit to Japan.

Those fortunate enough to be invited to the Rose home in Sierra Madre see what is regarded as the oldest authentic privately-owned Japanese garden in Southern California.

There are five ponds filled with water lilies and goldfish, a "little mountain," a brook, a tea shelter, seven kinds of bamboo and stonework done by hand—all created 90 years ago by a former staff member of the Japanese Imperial Gardens in Tokyo.

A Tea Shelter

"It's really a small stroll garden," Mrs. Rose explained. "And the correct term is tea shelter not tea-house. The Japanese built them on the mountainsides so they could have tea sheltered from the wind."

She has owned the house and gardens for the past 12 years.

"I liked it immediately because of the lovely garden and the privacy," Mrs. Rose said. "It has a high wall and a locked gate. It's like being in another world. I really didn't know I was buying something famous."

"But I soon found out when people and groups requested tours of my garden. It was originally part of the old Tomasina Graham estate which was divided after she died.

"Now, I do open the garden for worthy causes. Once a group of us decided to save a hillside some developer wanted to build some homes on and we needed money for a lawyer. We gave a garden tour and 400 people showed up. We raised the money."

The next group to visit Mrs. Rose's garden will be the Alumnae of Verdugo District Board, California Federation of Women's Clubs. The event on Friday, Aug. 11, will mark the first meeting of the newly elected officers led by Mrs. Kenneth K. Stonier of Glendale, president.

Others are Mmes. Rose, vice president; George Cottmire and George Champlain, secretaries; Harry A. Mowder, treasurer; John C. Heitman, auditor; J. Lloyd Welch, membership; Fred White, parliamentary; Robert H. Peterson, amenities; Dwight R. Young, historian; Grover Taylor, president's aide, and Thomas

B. Roscoe, publicity.

An executive board meeting at 10:30 a.m. will be followed by a picnic luncheon at noon, tour of the garden and tea served in the shelter. Mrs. Rose will describe the plants and flowers.

"When I first moved here, the ivy had spread over much of the garden," Mrs. Rose said. "It even covered the stone work. So I had to do quite a bit with it."

She and her gardener of 10 years, Thomas Sacki, care for the three-fourths-acre garden, which also includes some wistaria and various fruit trees.

Tokyo. Mrs. Kenneth K. Stonier, head of the Alumnae of Verdugo District Board of California Women's Clubs, will direct tour Aug. 11 of authentic tea shelter at the Sierra Madre home.

Woman's Club To Open New Fall Season

The Woman's Club of Arcadia will open the fall season Wednesday, Oct. 4 at 11:30 a.m. with the traditional luncheon meeting with Nancy Lee Preutsch, marimbist, presenting the program. Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, president, will welcome members and guests.

Miss Lee, a native of Kansas began her musical studies with the piano but found true satisfaction when she turned to the marimba and Vibraphone. After graduating from Northwestern School of Music, she joined the Marimba Coeds, a musical group of five girls all playing separate marimbas. They toured the United States and Canada with appearances on stage and television including the Ed Sullivan Show.

Reviewers say Miss Lee, "Her charming personality together with her musical talent is a wonderful combination, and she talks through her music." She is presented on a Musser Canterbury Concert Marimba.

Mrs. William Quon will decorate the clubhouse and a catered luncheon will be served.

Arcadia Woman's Club Starts Year with Coffee

The Woman's Club of Arcadia will usher in its 1972-73 season with the traditional membership coffee Wednesday, Sept. 20. At this time, members will gather in the lounge of the clubhouse from 10:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m., to visit with friends over a cup of coffee and refreshments.

This is an occasion at which new members are honored, and have an opportunity to become better acquainted with others in the Club. Prospective members and guests of members will be welcomed by the membership chairman, Mrs. Richard J. Nestler.

Mrs. Ernest Fuerst is chairman of the coffee, and will be assisted by Mrs. Nestler and Mrs. Robert A. Gray.

The Club season proper starts with the regular meeting the first Wednesday in October. Mrs. Michael Erickson, program chairman, has planned a fine program that day, when Nancy Lee Preutsch will entertain members with several renditions on the marimba. Miss Preutsch is a talented musician, and members won't want to miss hearing her play this beautiful instrument.

Mrs. Erickson has a most interesting year of programs lined up for the club members' pleasure, with Rosemary Davis leading the "Charmettes" in November, the "Tall Tones" in December, the Treat Family for Clergy Day in January, Lana Holmes, the "LF Woman" will entertain past presidents in February. The rest of the programs for the club season will be announced later.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery has planned another of her very popular and outstanding "Meet the Authors Day" for Feb. 21. Mrs. Harry Lauber will be in charge of Civic Day on March 7, and is planning a fine program.

Other activities of the club will be the bridge marathon, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Greenway, and social night when couples get together for a potluck supper followed by cards. They will meet on the first Friday of each month, at the clubhouse, with Mrs. Harry Walker its chairman.

Three departments of the Club meet once a month. The Arts and Crafts, at the clubhouse, at 10:30 a.m. the second Wednesday. Mrs. Michael Erickson is chairman, and members work on articles for the annual bazaar in December, and on various things to take to convalescent homes at holiday time.

Mrs. Joseph Parham is chairman of International Affairs. This group meets in members' homes, and have interesting programs on travel and what is going on in the world. This meets at 1:30 p.m. on the fourth Tuesday of each month.

Then there is the Literature and Drama Department of which Mrs. Bruce McAbery is chairman. They meet in homes, starting at 10 a.m., and bring members book reviews, poetry readings, and good fellowship. Mrs. McAbery sponsors the "Meet the Authors Day," which has become an almost traditional annual event, one of the regular club meetings, and is looked forward to by all the members.

Depth and insight mark Author's Day

The Arcadia Woman's Club has many projects but probably the one most enjoyed and looked forward to is the annual Author's Day luncheon.

This program offers the opportunity for members of the community as well as club members to hear and greet personally authors of repute. For several years the Gordons, Milly and Gordon, co-authors of "That Darn Cat" and others made into movies by Disney were among the guests. This year they were in Europe and suggested Dr. James Angell, minister of the Claremont Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Angell, Dr. Ethel Sabin Smith, Ph.D., author of "Gods and other Gods," and Evelyn Scott, author of "Hollywood When Silents Were Golden," were this year's speakers.

"Put Your Arms Around The City," "When God Made You He Knew What He Was Doing," and soon to be published "O, Susan," books by Angell were the basis for his enlightening discussion.

Raised in a farming community, coming to the metropolitan area was an awakening for him... but he did come to the conclusion that no matter how different the cultural background the Church plays an important role and that Christianity was still very relevant.

He kept coming over him that although people seemed to have "more" their happiness seemed to be less, and that weekends appeared to be, to many, an "escape time."

He commented that he too was amazed at the network of freeways and he brought to mind the thought that freeways were great, but, one had to know where one was going to make them worthwhile.

With these thoughts in mind he wrote "Put Your Arms Around the City" sharing his adjustment to this more "sophisticated" form of life.

His direct, sincere approach held the audience with a form of rapture. And his query "If you were arrested for being a Christian how much evidence would there be against you?" was both humorous and most provocative.

In his forthcoming book, "O Susan," an anthology of thoughts and prayers offered to his family upon the untimely accidental death of his 21-year-old daughter, interspersed with his own reactions he says, "it is my own spiritual odyssey." The book received a $2,500 first place award from Warner press for being the best manuscript submitted during 1972.

In a brief discussion he "gifts" he said that how often it had come to mind that one great teacher could really make the difference in a person's life.

Dr. Smith read excerpts from her book offering new insights, unexpected revelations and unusual interpretations of man's ways with his gods down through the ages.

The element of humor was evident as Mrs. Scott told tales of Hollywood from the time her mother was a script writer to the present time. It was obvious she really knew Hollywood.

Lillian Ross is chairman of the Literature section, sponsors of the "Author's Day" and Mrs. Alice McAbery was chairman of this very special event shared by a host of Arcadians.

Arcadia Woman's Club Welcomes New Members

The lounge in the Woman's Club of Arcadia was filled with members who gathered together for a membership coffee.

Only three of the new members were able to be present to be honored, and these were greeted by the membership chairman, Mrs. Richard Nestler, and the president, Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler. The new members, Mrs. Donald Graham, William Milmer and David Sheldon, were each presented with a corsage consisting of a pink carnation and green how, representing the club colors.

The coffee table was decorated with a pink cloth and a centerpiece of pink carnations and bunches of grapes in a crystal compote. Varieties of fruits poured out of a scooped-out watermelon shell, and there were dainty Danish sweetrolls, juice and coffee. This buffet was planned and carried out by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Ernest Fuerst, assisted by Mrs. Nestler.

The get-together, attended by 50 members, heralded the beginning of the new Club year. The first regular meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 4.

The Charmettes To Entertain Woman's Club

ARCADIA — The Woman's Club program for Wednesday, Nov. 1 will feature "The Charmettes," a versatile group presenting an unusual combination of vocal and instrumental tunes.

Rosemary and Teri, a mother-daughter team, display much versatility and talent. Teri plays with the Highland Symphony Orchestra and is a student at Hollywood Professional School.

Elsie, the other member of the group, is an accomplished pianist and accordionist and has appeared at leading hotels and clubs. Elsie and Rosemary are active in many phases of show business.

Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler will preside at the business meeting. Luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m.

Woman's Club Slates Some Specialties

There will be some interesting things going on at the next few meetings of the Woman's Club of Arcadia.

On Wednesday, Nov. 15, there will be a guessing game of which Mrs. William Milner, one of the newer members, will have charge. Members have been asked to bring pictures of themselves taken from birth to five years. These will be numbered and placed on a table, members then trying to guess who each one is. A prize will be given to the one getting the most correct answers.

At this meeting, there will be a birthday table, an innovation introduced this year by the president, Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler. Members whose birthday occurs in that month, sit at the specially decorated head table at each second meeting of the month, to be honored with the singing of the birthday song, and a surprise favor.

December will be a busy month at the club, with the regular meeting on Wed. Dec. 6. At this time, the Arts and Crafts Department will have its annual bazaar, starting at 10 a.m. Members of that department, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Michael Erickson, have been busy the last few months making articles to offer Christmas shoppers attending.

After the business meeting, the "Tall Tones," presented by Mrs. Erickson, who is also program chairman of the club, will entertain.

There will be a Christmas party at the second meeting of the month, on Wed. Dec. 20, with an exchange of gifts, the birthday table and cards.

Woman's Club Clergy Day set tomorrow

Activities for the Woman's Club of Arcadia for the new year will commence tomorrow as the group sponsors its annual Clergy Day meeting.

Mrs. Raymond Kennett, religion and ethics chairman, will hostess this occasion when clergymen from Arcadia churches will be guests of the club for luncheon. The program featuring the Treat Family, husband and wife and sons Jamy and Dean, who offer a variety of folk music, will be introduced by Mrs. Michael Erickson, program chairman.

There really is a Santa Claus. Members of the Arcadia Woman's Club saw him when he came to distribute gifts at their party just before Christmas.

Never let it be said that women can't keep a secret, for the few who knew about the appearance of Randy Gragg, Jaycee member as Santa they kept the surprise from the other members.

The clubhouse assumed a festive look with poinsettia arrangements in the foyer and a tree with sparkling lights adorning the credenza.

The monthly birthday table an innovation this year was decorated with sleighs of greens, holly garlands and topiary trees created by Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, president.

Mrs. Christine Mallon helped Santa call the numbers on the gifts and several members acted as "runners" to deliver them. Completing the festive day members adjourned to the foyer for cards.

Arcadia Woman's Club holds Clergy Day meet

The Woman's Club of Arcadia ushered in the new year at its Jan. 3 Clergy Day gathering. This annual event was attended by ministerial representatives of the various Arcadia churches.

Busy schedules and illness kept many from attending but those welcomed by Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, president were Dr. James McCormick, Church of the Good Shepherd, who gave the invocation. Dr. McCormick's hostess was Mrs. Harry Walker.

Others were the Rev. William Daum, Church of Transfiguration, Mrs. Ernest J. Fuerst, hostess; Mrs. Richard Krahn, former reader First Church of Christ Scientist, Mrs. Richard Nestler hostess and Mrs. Blanche Hahn, Arcadia Presbyterian Church representative, Mrs. Harry Russell, hostess.

Table decor of red and white poinsettia arrangements were done by Mrs. Edward Verhoef.

Mrs. Michael Erickson introduced the program. The Treat family, father, mother and two talented and versatile sons provided a liltin' interlude with the aid of guitars, cello, banjo, tambourines and song. The audience was invited to join in on some of the familiar choruses.

Other January events include the today's meeting of the Arts and Craft Department where members worked on gifts for patients of a convalescent hospital to be delivered on St. Valentine's Day.

Mrs. Michael Erickson is chairman of this department.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fuerst will host the Saturday Night social when potluck supper will be shared with cards to follow.

Members of the International Affairs Department will gather at the home of Mrs. Joseph Parnham, chairman, for a business meeting and program, Jan. 23. Mrs. Lois Merton, program chairman, will introduce Mrs. Raymond Kennett who will offer the program.

Mrs. Parnham will cater the luncheon to be served following the meeting after which members may stay for cards.

The Literature Department will meet Jan. 24 at the clubhouse where Mrs. John Ross will preside over a meeting with a theme in keeping with the department.

The executive board will meet Jan. 26 at the home of Mrs. George Blanchard, vice president, with Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, presiding.

Arcadia Woman's Club Opens Busy Year with Clergy Day

The Woman's Club of Arcadia ushered in the new year with what is a special day on its club calendar. For Wednesday, Jan. 3, was Clergy Day — a day on which representatives of the churches of Arcadia are the Club's guests for luncheon and entertainment.

Unfortunately, busy schedules and illness kept many from attending, but those welcomed by the President Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, and members were Dr. James McCormack of the Church of the Good Shepherd, who gave the blessing preceding luncheon. Dr. McCormack's hostess was Mrs. Harry Walker.

The Rev. William Daum, from the Church of the Transfiguration, was hosted by Mrs. Ernest J. Fuerst, Mrs. Richard Krahn, former Reader of the First Church of Christ Scientist, by Mrs. Richard Nestler, and Mrs. Blanche Hahn, representing the Arcadia Presbyterian Church, by Mrs. Harry Russell.

The auditorium of the clubhouse was quite gay with decorations purposely left up from a New Year's Eve party held there, and with white and red poinsettia arrangements by Mrs. Edward Verhoef decorating the tables.

After luncheon introduced the guests to the members before calling on Mrs. Michael Erickson to present the entertainment of the afternoon. The Treat family, father, mother and two talented and versatile young sons, provided this liltin' interlude with the help of guitars, cello, banjo, tamborines and song. With the audience joining in on some of the choruses, it proved a real fun session, which was most relaxing after a busy holiday schedule.

Other interesting events coming up this month included the Arts and Crafts Department Meeting held yesterday, when members gathered at the clubhouse to work on gifts for patients of a convalescent hospital, to be delivered in time for St. Valentine's. Mrs. Michael Erickson is chairman of this group.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fuerst will host the Social Night at the clubhouse tomorrow night when a potluck supper is served and followed by cards.

Members will gather at the home of Mrs. Joseph Parnham, International Department Chairman, on Tuesday, Jan. 23, for a business meeting and program, the latter to be given by Mrs. Raymond Kennett, who will be introduced by the program chairman of the group, Mrs. Lois Merton. Mrs. Parnham will cater the luncheon following the program, after which those who wish to do so may stay and play cards.

On Wednesday, Jan. 24, the Literature Department will meet at the clubhouse to combine business at which the Chairman, Mrs. John Ross, will preside, and a program to be given which will be in keeping with the theme of the department.

And on Friday, Jan. 26, the Executive Board will meet at the home of the first vice president, Mrs. George Blanchard, for its regular session of business and planning. The President will preside.

Women Honor Presidents

The Women's Club of Arcadia set aside Feb. 9 to honor its past presidents.

Past presidents who attended the meeting were Mmes. Harry Russell, who presided in 1944-45; John Ross, 1945-46; Charles Ganther, 1950-51; and Bruce McAbery, 1951-54 and '71-72.

Also attending were Mmes. Omar Knutson, 1958-59; Ernest Fuerst, 1959-60;

Michael Erickson, 1963-64; Harry Lauber, 1965-66; and Gilbert Starkenburg, 1969-70.

The past presidents were welcomed by Henrietta Loeffler, the current president.

Placecards and favors in the club colors of pink and green adorned the head table with hearts and pink camellias on the luncheon tables, arranged by Mrs. Harry Walker.

Club Sponsors Korean Orphan

Members of the International Affairs department of the Woman's Club of Arcadia have sponsored a Korean War orphan through World Vision and have recently received a letter from the little girl who is six years old and whose name is Yung Ok.

Chairman of the department is Mrs. Joseph Parnham and co-chairman is Mrs. Lois L. Merton. The International Affairs group sends $12 a month through World Vision to support the child; this past Christmas, they sent her a gift of $10 to spend on herself.

The letter from Yung Ok (written with the assistance of "Kim" and translated from the characters actually used) begins: "Dear Sponsor, Are you doing well in His Grace? Due to your loving care Yung Ok is growing well and in good health."

"I am very glad to write you for Yung Ok. It is very hot here now — the temperature rises to 32°C (the letter was written in middle July) in the day time. Yung Ok enjoys swinging and playing house under the shade of trees. She is cheerful little and lovely. May God bless you richly in everything you do."

The name of the school where the little Yung lives is Dong Song Yung A Won in Seoul, Korea. World Vision has a new compound which opened recently and in the area a hospital, vocational training school and a music institute are located.

The International Department will have its next meeting Feb. 27 at the home of Mrs. Parnham, 615 Longden. Mrs. John Milam will give a talk on St. Valentine and following that will be luncheon and bridge. Reservations should be made by Monday morning, Feb. 26 by calling Mrs. Parnham, 447-2727 or Mrs. Merton, 447-9806.

Women in the department plan to continue their interest in the orphan by sending her birthday cards and remembering her at special times.

World Vision states that "though the war in Korea is long over, the economic war is a real one — there are households with five or six children and no living father."

The International Department plans to send brief letters, simply worded to the adopted orphan — they have been assured the child will see the letter and that most of the children will learn English, which is usually taught in junior high school or in high school.

A REAL TREASURE — Mrs. John Milam, treasurer of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, and a member of the International Affairs department is holding the recently received picture of the Korean War orphan which the department has adopted through World Vision. The child is a little girl, six years of age.

Woman's Club Holds Annual 'Authors Day'

By JANE SHEPHERD

"Meet the Authors" luncheon held at the Woman's Club of Arcadia received its usual accolade from the audience when the three distinguished authors discussed the various books they had written. Dr. Ethel Sabin Smith, Mrs. Evelyn F. Scott and the Rev. James Angell have published material in widely different fields ranging from philosophy, memoirs of early Hollywood to the areas of ministry and psychology.

The Rev. Angell came to California from Kentucky by way of Iowa in 1954 and found himself in a huge urban area which was totally different from the small community in which he had spent his life. He was assigned a church (Presbyterian) on Wilshire Boulevard where he could see "12 lanes of traffic roaring past with not one on its way to church."

However in an effort to generate interest in a new approach to urban problems, he developed a new type of vocabulary which he used in his communications to his congregation. Some of the titles were, "Beauty Rides the Bus," "There's a Lion Loose in the Airplane," "Two People Meet at the Water Cooler," "Freeways Are Great If You Know Where You Are Going" and "Don't Leave Town on Friday Afternoon."

The messages were gathered together, printed in book form and the book was the winner of a $10,000 prize. James Angell is also the author of another prize winning book to be released this spring, "O Susan" is the title of the story built around the death of his 21 year old daughter, killed in an auto accident on Easter eve. The book is a collection of notes sent him and of his observations of the tragedy of "young death."

Dr. Smith (who may or may not have been influenced by the early morning earthquake felt by Southern Californians that day), selected as a theme "Day of Judgment" as shown in various religions by the different interpretations used by each. She included beliefs of the ancient Egyptians, the Persians, Greeks, Babylonians and Jews — excerpts from her book on "Comparative Religion."

She began her remarks with the story of a little boy who enjoyed sketching and was busily drawing away one day when he was asked by his mother what he was sketching. His answer was "A picture of God." His parent protested that no one knew what God looks like, her son replied, "They will when I get through."

Evelyn Scott began her recollections of life in old Hollywood with memories of traveling past the Arcadia area when the town was just "a jog in the road." She mentioned that then as now there were severe problems existing in Hollywood regarding censorship of the movies. In the days of the "silents," she pointed out, motherhood was considered not quite nice to depict on the screen, especially pregnancy. She told of a movie wherein the whole point of

A-2 Daily News-Post Thursday, February 8, 1973 Author's Luncheon plans announced

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, chairman of the Arcadia Woman's Club Author's Day luncheon, has announced that the Feb. 21 event will include Ethel Sabin Smith, author of five books since retirement from teaching at Byrn Mawr and Mills Colleges; Mrs. Evelyn F. Scott whose latest book is "Hollywood Where Silents Were Golden" and Dr. James Angell minister of Claremont Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Angell received a $2,500 first place award from Warner Press for the best manuscript submitted during a 1972 book contest. Angell's book will be published this spring under the title "O, Susan." Susan, the Angell's 21-year-old daughter was killed on Easter Eve, March 29, 1970 in an automobile accident.

After the accident, Angell received many helpful letters from "people pouring out their compassion." He collected the letters but felt they were "too precious for a shoe box," so he organized them into an anthology.

Three editors returned the manuscript after submission. One suggested that the book would have more impact if he added his own experiences to accompany the letters. A year later he finished his personal reflections and sub-

Woman's Club To Host Day For Authors

"Meet the Authors" day at the Woman's Club of Arcadia, eagerly awaited each year by members of the community, will have three famous authors as guests this year when the popular program is presented at the clubhouse Wednesday, Feb. 21.

Evelyn F. Scott, the Rev. James Angell and Ethel Sabin Smith will be the guest authors this year.

Mrs. John P. Ross is chairman of the Literature Department of the club. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, a past president of the group, began the project of introducing authors to the community.

Evelyn F. Scott is the author of "Hollywood When Silents Were Golden" published in 1972.

Mrs. Scott arrived in Hollywood when she was five years old for the reason, as she states, "What started as a vacation became a way of life as my mother accepted a contract to write for the (silent) screen and my father, a book-importer whose business was a war casualty came West to be involved in those great Southern California businesses, oil and real estate with interlude of airplanes."

After attending the Hollywood School for Girls, the author, at 19 went to Europe for two years and studied at the Sorbonne, taking French I, Literature, Folklore and Heraldry and did some sketching with her roommate, Sam Goldwyn's daughter, who was "painting seriously" and dragged her through nine chateaux of the Loire in three days.

Mrs. Scott is careful to identify herself as not the same Evelyn Scott as the late author of "The Wave," "The Narrow House"; or as a lady of the same name who disappeared in West Los Angeles and is rumored to have been buried under the then unfinished San Diego Freeway or as the actress featured in Peyton Place. She is the author of "The Story of Fourteen Bears" and is presently working on another book "The Fourteen Bears in Summer and Winter" to be published this fall.

Another guest author, the Rev. James Angell, minister of the Claremont Presbyterian Church has received a $2500 first-place award from Warner Press for the best manuscript submitted in a 1972 book contest. His book will be published this spring under the title "O. Susan." The Angells' 21 year old daughter, Susan, was killed Easter eve., March 29 in an automobile accident. Mr. Angell is also the author of "Put Your Arms Around the City," published in 1970 and winner of a $10,000 prize for the best new manuscript of the year. He is also the author of "When God Made You He Knew What He Was Doing."

The author grew up in Iowa, is a University of Iowa law school graduate and served during World War II as a navigator on a destroyer. He entered the seminary after practicing law for one year because, "I was spiritually shook up by the war."

Ethel Sabin Smith of San Jose, is a retired school teacher who has authored five books since her retirement — one of her latest is "God and Other Gods". Mrs. Smith has a Ph.D in philosophy — she was a professor of philosophy and psychology at Mills College and at Bryn Mawr. She is the author of "Dynamics of Aging" and "Passports At Seventy." Her current hobbies in addition to writing are travel, and civic activities.

Mrs. Joseph C. Parnham is chairman of the luncheon committee who will, with the assistance of Mmes. Harry Russel, J. Walter Genuit, Harry Walker and E. J. Fuerst will personally prepare the luncheon which is planned for noon that day.

Mrs. William H. Murphy will be in charge of the dining room, assisted by Mrs. James B. Goodwin and Mrs. Jack A. Hargraves.

According to Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, president of the club, reservations must be made by Monday, Feb. 19 with any of the following, Mrs. Robert H. Lane, 447-1814; Mrs. LeRoy Blodgett, 447-8944 or with Mrs. Clarence Browning, 447-4295.

Fashion benefit on April calendar

Bunnies offer tickets

Committee members for the Arcadia Woman's Club "Easter Parade" fashion event have been "busy as bunnies" preparing for the spring occasion. The benefit event will be staged at the clubhouse, 324 S. First Ave., Wednesday, April 18.

Luncheon plans are under the direction of Mrs. Walter Genuit and committee. With fashions provided by Hinshaw's and stage decor furnished by the Santa Anita Florists.

"Easter Parade" of fashions will be followed by bridge and canasta for those wishing to stay. Winners at each table will take home the centerpieces being assembled by the decoration committee. Door gifts will be awarded to those whose "lucky bunny" ticket is drawn.

Members working on the project include Mmes. Charles Ganteer, George Blanchard, Walter Genuit, Harry Russell, Michael Erickson and Henrietta Loeffler.

Mrs. Ganther, 447-2307 may be contacted for tickets.

Arcadia Woman's Club Honors

Civic Day, one of the most important of the special days of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, was celebrated recently in the traditional fashion. Mrs. Harry Lauber, a past president of the club and presently serving on the Planning Commission, was chairman of the day.

As is usual with Mrs. Lauber for the Civic Day program, she has a department of the city explain and demonstrate its function in city government.

The Arcadia Woman's Club's history is closely allied with that of the growth and activities of Arcadia, and the invitation to civic day is one that is looked forward to by "city fathers."

Mayor Don Hage and Mrs. Hage, Councilman Bob Arth and Mrs. Arth, Fire Chief Gene Mahoney and Charles Greenstreet, and City Manager Lyman Cozad were among the city government family at the luncheon.

The school board and school district were represented as well as the heads of committees and commissions including the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, president, officiated at the opening of the luncheon and then turned the program over to Mrs. Lauber who introduced the guests.

Last year the Arcadia Police Department put on a vivid program explaining what is done by the police to protect the city. This year the program was presented by Charles Greenstreet, Arcadia Recreation Director, who introduced the program which told of some of the varied activities of the Recreation Department.

A tumbling exhibition was given by Joe Abejon, instructor and Shelly Costanza, Lisa Hall and Farryl Stolteben, Senior Citizens. Betty Harris, Recreation Dept. coordinator, introduced Ruben Noren, president, Arcadia Golden Age Club and Miss Velma Wright, president, Arcadia Friendship Club. Cheerleading groups from Arcadia schools put on a demonstration under the direction of Sharon Landis, Camino Grove School recreation leader. Taking part were Julie Bates, Debbie Daleo, Karen Jasco, Stephanie Kral, Robin Martin, Katri Phuler, Terry Sinka and Denise Taylor.

Marc Mueller, Recreation Dept. naturalist gave an interesting exhibit, and the adult ballroom dancing was exhibited by Mary Lou Privett, ballroom dancing instructor. Called from the audience to participate were Mayor Hage, City manager Lyman Cozad, Fire Chief Eugene Mahoney, Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, Woman's Club president, and Diane Quan.

Ballet and tap dancing was shown by Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart, dance instructor.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO HAVE FASHION SHOW

The Easter Parade, a fund-raising affair, will be held at the Arcadia Woman's Club on Wednesday, April.

The party will start off with a delicious luncheon followed by a fashion show to be presented by Hinshaw's. Stage decorations are being furnished by Santa Anita Florists, making a lovely background for the Easter Parade of fashion.

After the show there will be bridge and canasta for those who wish to play. The winner at each table will take home the beautiful centerpiece being assembled by the committee as decorations for each table. There will also be many door prizes.

For tickets call Mrs. Charles Gauthier, 447-2907.

Happiness, seems to be a check from the Arcadia Woman's Club judging from the grin on the face of Chaplain Jerry Marshall of the Union Rescue Mission. Presentation of $500 was made at Wednesday meeting by Mrs. Harold Shepherd, philanthropy committee chairman, right. Smiling in agreement is Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, Woman's Club president.

Woman's Club April calendar is eventful

The Woman's Club of Arcadia is finding April to be a busy month. On April 4 Reciprocity Day was held with two officers from the Verdugo District, CFWC as well as presidents of other clubs of the District in attendance. A fashion event is planned April 18.

These special guests were Mrs. De Forest Cutler, Verdugo District president and Mrs. Edward Smith, first vice-president. Mrs. Cutler spoke briefly on District activities.

District club presidents welcomed to the meeting by Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, Arcadia president, were Mmes. Forest Davis, Arroyo Vista; Charles Anderson, Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale; Paul Hughes, Woman's Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock and Frances Harriman, Study Group of South Pasadena.

Special guest was Chaplain Jerry Marshall, representative of the Union Rescue Mission, Los Angeles. He related interesting facts about the Mission and the fine work that is being done there.

Marshall beamed as Mrs. Harold Shepherd, philanthropy committee chairman, presented him a check for $500.

This check is to be used in connection with Mission projects including keeping three beds available for a year at the Mission, a week at Green Oak Ranch for each of ten boys, funds for the new Youth House and aid to Alcoholic Rehabilitation.

The Union Rescue Mission is the Club's main philanthropy for the year and proceeds from the coming fashion event will also support the project.

Speaker for the program was Leonard Kustner, long-time druggist from Monrovia who has made the study of perfumes his hobby.

Kustner told a fascinating story about perfumes and colognes including the rare ingredients used as a base and the many pounds of flowers used for their bouquet.

He offered helpful hints on where and how to use perfume and admonished the women to choose their perfume as carefully as they do their facial make-up. Samples of colognes were given each person in the audience.

Women of the community were reminded of the Women's Club April 18 Easter Parade fashion show.

Luncheon will be served at noon followed by a style show put on by Hinshaw's. Stage decor through the courtesy of Santa Anita Florists will provide the background for the show.

Bridge and canasta will follow with prizes for each table winner as well as a bounty of door gifts.

Tickets for this event which will also benefit the Union Rescue Mission may be obtained from Mrs. Charles Ganther, 447-2307. Reservations must be made by April 16.

EASTER PARADE — Mrs. Michael Erickson (left), Mrs. George Blanchard and Henrietta Loeffler are pleased with plans for the fashion luncheon of the Woman's Club of Arcadia on April 18 at the clubhouse. Spring and summer fashions will be shown by Hinshaw's. Cards will follow.

Arcadia Woman's Club Plans Fashion Luncheon

ARCADIA — Committee members working on the "Easter Parade," to be presented at the Woman's Club of Arcadia on April 18 in the clubhouse, have been busy "bunnies" planning for a delightful afternoon for those attending the fund-raising affair. All proceeds will be used for the club's philanthropies.

The party will start off with a delicious noon luncheon dreamed up and prepared by chair man Mrs. Walter Genuit and her committee. This will be followed by a fashion show to be presented by Hinshaw's with stage decorations being furnished by the Santa Anita Florists to make a lovely background for the Easter parade of fashions.

Following the show, there will be bridge and canasta for those who wish to stay and play cards. The winner at each table will take home the beautiful centerpiece being assembled by the committee as decorations for each table. Added to all this, there will be door prizes for those whose lucky bunny on their ticket is drawn.

The committee working on this affair are Mmes. Charles Ganther, George Blanchard, Walter Genuit, Harry Russell, Michael Erickson and Henrietta Loeffler. Mrs. Ganther is in charge of tickets, and reservations or other information, may be obtained by calling her at 447-2307.

The club celebrated annual Reciprocity Day on April 4 guests being two officers from the Verdugo District, G.P.W.C., as well as presidents of other clubs in the district. Tables were gay with decorations using baskets of flowers topped with Easter bunnies, done by Mrs. Michael Erickson and Mrs. Edward Verhoef, representing the crafts and sewing department, of which Mrs. Erickson is chairman.

After the opening greeting from president

Henrietta Loeffler, Mrs. James Godwin, American citizenship chairman, led in the pledge of allegiance, which was followed by the invocation given by religion chairman Mrs. Raymond Kennett.

After luncheon, Mrs. Loeffler introduced the Verdugo District president, Mrs. DeForest Cutler, and the first vice president, Mrs. Edward Smith. Mrs. Cutler spoke briefly on some of the recent activities of the district.

Club presidents welcomed by Mrs. Loeffler were Mmes. Forest Davis, Arroyo Vista Woman's Club; Charles Anderson, Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale; Paul Hughes, Woman's Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock; and Mrs. Frances Harriman, Study Group of South Pasadena.

A special guest was Cary Marshall, who came as a representative of the Union Rescue Mission in Los Angeles. Mrs. Harold Shepherd, philanthropy chairman, presented him with a check for $500 to help in the work being done by the Mission. The $500 will be allocated to the upkeep of three beds for a year, a week at Green Oak Ranch for each of 10 boys, the new Youth House, and alcoholic rehabilitation. This is the club's main philanthropic project for the year and will be supported by the Easter Parade fashion show.

Mrs. Michael Erickson, program chairman, introduced Leonard Kustner, a long-time druggist from Monrovia, as guest speaker. Mr. Kustner has made the study of perfumes and colognes his hobby and he told a fascinating story about perfumes, the rare ingredients used as their base, and the many pounds of flowers used for a bouquet.

The speaker gave helpful hints as to where and how to use perfumes and how to select the scent most suitable for the individual.

Club show memories linger on

The party is over Arcadia Woman's Club spring fashion benefit, but the memory lingers on.

Guests attending the gala afternoon event were treated to a gourmet luncheon prepared by Mrs. Walter Genuit and Mrs. Harry Russell and committee.

The culinary excellence was augmented by the tables attractively clothed in yellow with green lace dollies centered with hurricane lamps surrounded by wreaths of spring flowers. The centerpieces became table prizes for those remaining to play cards.

The style parade commented by Mrs. Ronnie Ronning of Hinshaw's featured spring and summer fashions. The stage was adorned with urns of white and yellow flowers with a four foot bunny, looking on.

The climax to the show was the appearance, from the wings, of Mrs. Henrietta Loeffler, club president, resplendent in a Charleston era costume of pink lace, complete with string of pearls, headband with feather and a long cigarette holder, who commented "see how styles have changed since we were girls." For a moment there was complete silence and then ripples of laughter joined to form a thunderous applause.

Assisting with plans for the event which benefited the Union Rescue Mission were Mmes. Charles Ganther, reservations and tickets; George Blanchard, Michael Erickson, Walter Genuit, Harry Russell and Loeffler.

Easter Parade was the theme of the Arcadia Woman's Club fashion show held Wednesday at the clubhouse. The annual spring benefit was attended by a large number of Arcadians in addition to regular members. All eyes of the guests were caught by bathing beauty model. Easter Bunny decor and spring flowers were used as decor.
